

In the name of God

A - Attention
D - Deficit
H - Hyperactivity
D - Disorder

2

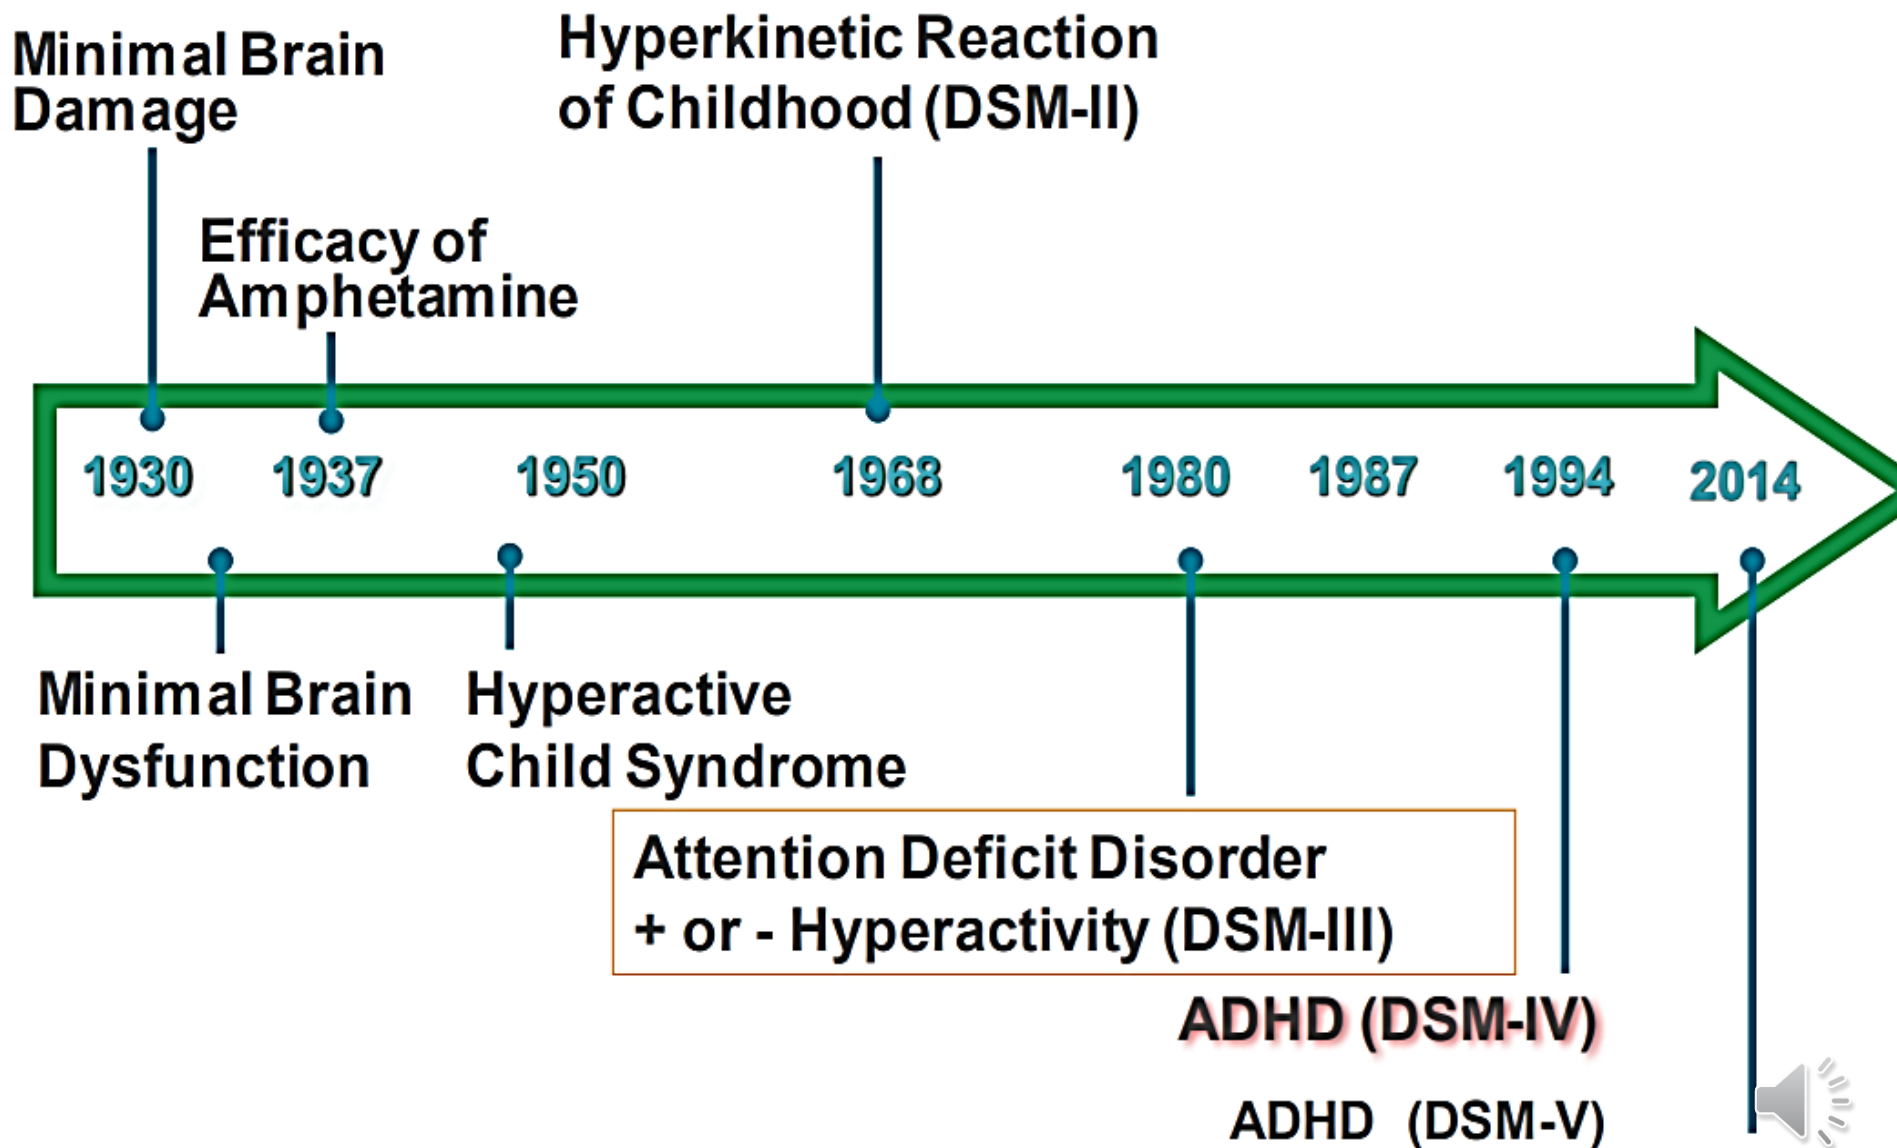

Sanaz Norouzi MD.

Assistant Professor of Child & Adolescent Psychiatry

Tabriz University of Medical Sciences

ADHD Historical Timeline

ADHD

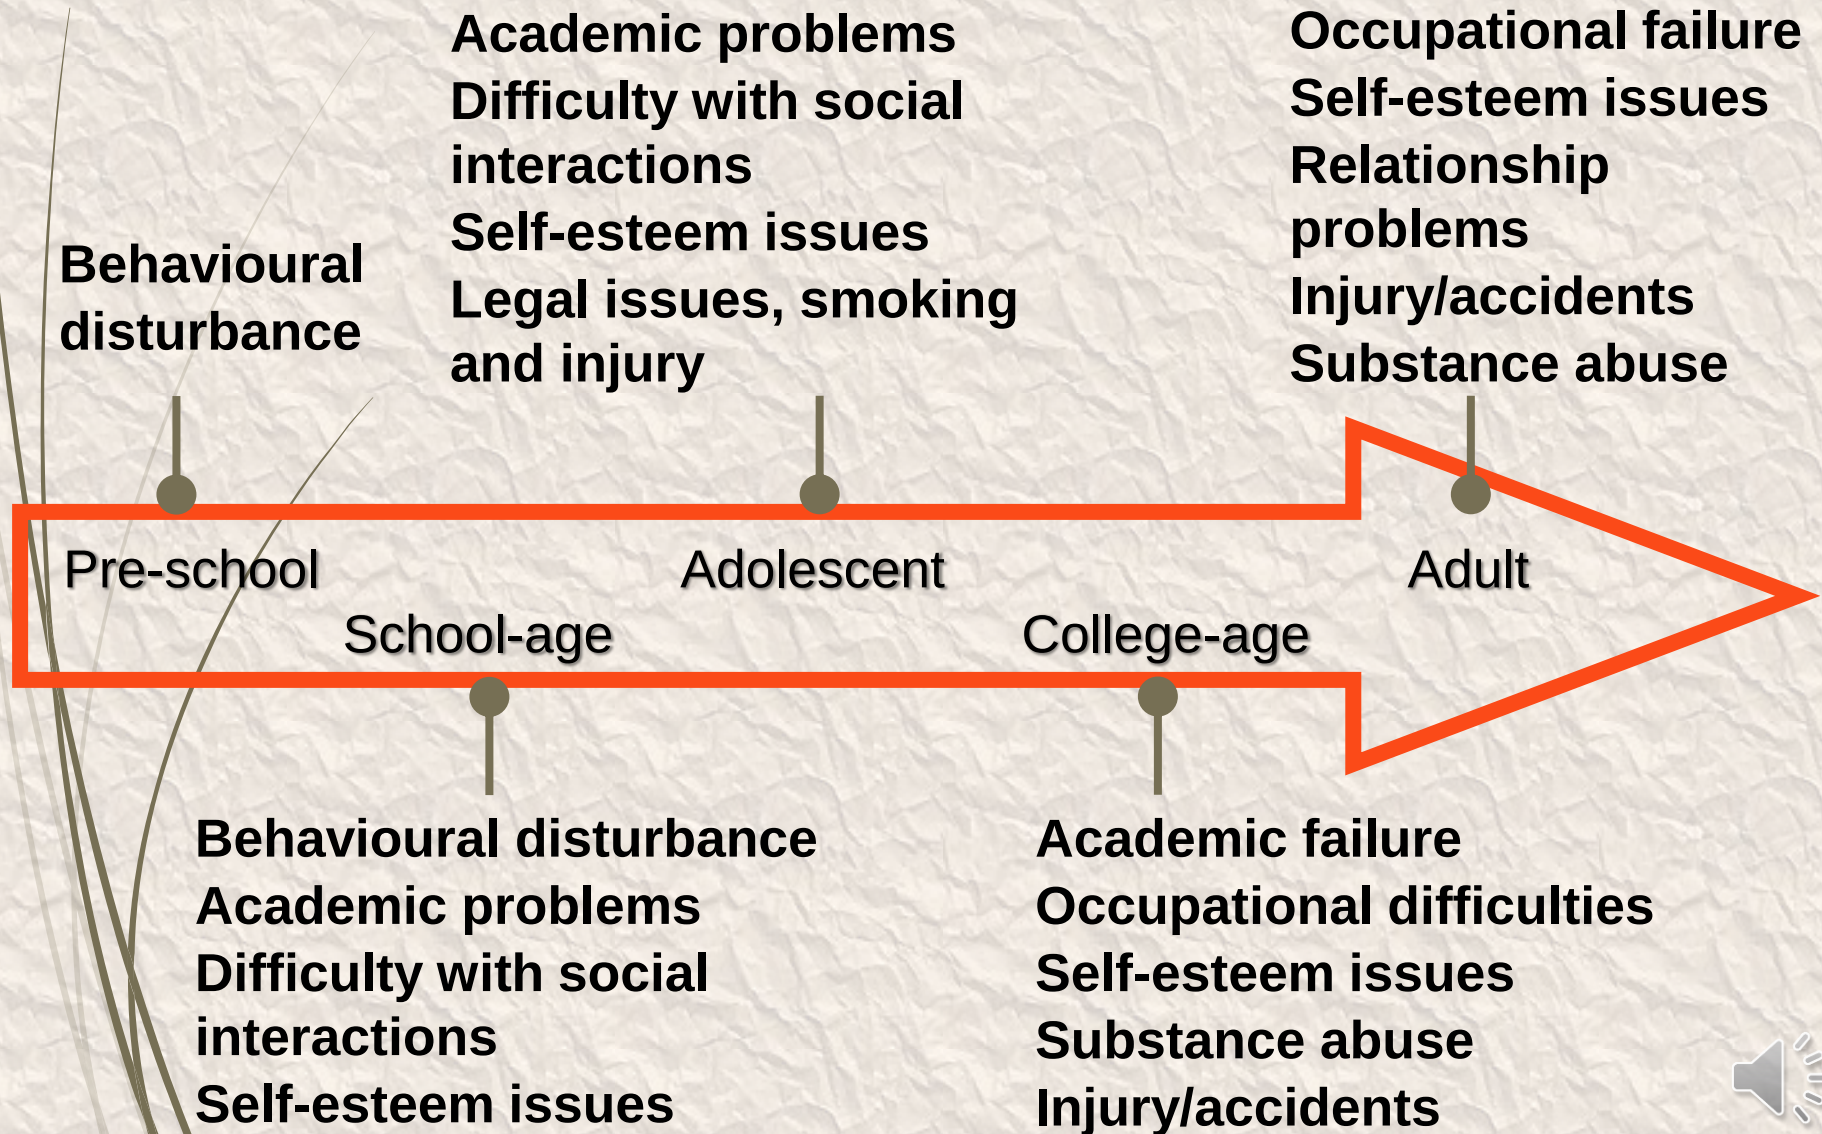

Why Do You Need to Know?

ADHD:

- Is common
- Can be serious
- Can persist
- Is stigmatizing
- Is treatable

Developmental Impact of ADHD

EPIDEMIOLOGY

- ➡ The change to the DSM-IV diagnostic system with the creation of the three subtypes increased the prevalence of ADHD from 3% to 5% (DSM-III-R) to about 12%

Diagnostic Criteria for ADHD (DSM-5)

- Inattention (6 or more)
- Hyperactivity-impulsivity (6 or more)
- Several symptoms were present before age 12 years.
- Several symptoms are present in two or more settings.

- Clinically significant impairment in social, academic, or occupational functioning.
- Symptoms do not occur exclusively during the course of psychotic disorders and are not better explained by another mental disorder.

Symptoms of ADHD

Symptoms of ADHD

Inattention

Impulsivity

Hyperactivity

